KILLING OF THE SEALS.

President Transmits Documents in Relation to the Matter.Washington, Feb. 11.—The president sent to the senate to-day a bulky package of documents in response to a resolution calling for information about sealing in Bering Sea. Accompanying the documents was the following letter of transmittal:"To the Senate—On the 8th day of January I received a copy of the following senate resolution:"Resolved, That the president be requested, If not incompatible with the public interests, to communicate to the senate all reports, documents and other papers, including logs of vessels, relating to the enforcement of the regulations respecting fur seals adopted by the government of the United States and Great Britain in accordance with the decision of the tribunal of arbitration convened at Paris and the resolution (regulations) under which said reports are required to be made, as well as relating to the number of seals taken during the season of 1894 by polaris hunters and by the lessees of the Pribylov and Commander Islands; also relating to the steps which may have been taken to extend the existing regulations to the Asiatic waters of the North Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea and to secure the concurrence of nations in said regulations; and further, all papers not heretofore published, including communications of the agent of the United States before said tribunal at Paris, relating to the claims of the British government on account of the seizure of the sealing vessels in Bering Sea.""In compliance with said request I herewith transmit sundry papers, documents and reports which have been returned to me by the secretary of state, the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of the navy, to whom the said resolution was referred. I am not in possession of any further information touching the various subjects embodied in said resolution."It will be seen from a letter from the secretary of the navy accompanying the papers and documents sent from his department that it is impossible to furnish at this time the complete log books of some of the naval vessels referred to in the resolution; but I venture to express the hope that the reports of the commanders of such vessels herewith submitted will be found to contain in substance so much of the matters referred to in said log books as are important in answering the inquiries addressed to me by the senate. Signed, GROVER CLEVELAND.

Executive Mansion, Feb. 11, 1895.

The correspondence laid before the senate to-day contains much of which is uninteresting and some matters heretofore printed. Under date of to-day the secretary of the treasury says, in a letter to the president in response to an inquiry relating to the work of the sealing fleet, that ten out of the thirty-two American vessels engaged in fur seal fishing here made returns as to latitude and longitude, the captains of the other vessels deposing, under oath, that they cleared without notice of the regulations and therefore made no record of the places of capture. It appears from this report that during the season of 1894 about 142,000 seals were killed by pelagic hunters in the north Pacific ocean, including Bering Sea. Of this number about 60,000 were taken either in Bering sea or on the American side of the north Pacific ocean, 15,035 seals were taken on the Pribylov islands by the North American Commercial company lessees, under a contract with this government, dated March 12, 1890. The department has no official statistics of the catch in Commander Islands, but is unofficially informed that it amounted to 37,355.The subject of compensation and the wish of Great Britain to appoint a mixed commission to "verify and adjust the claims for compensation for the seizures of British sealing vessels in Bering sea" first comes up in Mr. Gresham's reply (August 21, 1894) to Sir Julian Pauncefote's note of June 7.Mr. Gresham opposes the idea of a commission as too dilatory and too expensive and says that "under the circumstances the president has reached the conclusion that it may be practicable as well as advantageous to effect a direct settlement of the claims by the payment of a lump sum in full satisfaction of all demands for damages against the United States. and to this end I am instructed by the president to propose the sum of $425,000.
This proposition, if it should prove acceptable to her majesty's government, is to be understood as having been made subject to the action of congress in the question of appropriating the money."In a note of this same date, the British ambassador accepts the tender of $425,000, "coupled," he adds, "with the assurance of prompt payment, although the amount is much below the estimate of the compensation which might be awarded by a mixed commission."In a note bearing date of January 23, 1895, Mr. Gresham transmits to the British ambassador for communication to his government, "the deep feeling of solicitude on the part of the president with regard to the future of the Alaskan seal herds, as declared by the official returns of seals killed at sea during the present season in the North Pacific Ocean."Going somewhat into detail this note says: "It would appear that there were landed in the United States and Victoria 121,143 skins and that the total pelagic catch amounts to 142,000, a result unprecedented in the history of pelagic sealing. It would further appear that the vessels engaged in Bering Sea, although only one-third of the usual number employed in the North Pacific, in four or five weeks, killed 31,583 seals—only 8,000 more than were killed in Bering Sea in 1891 (the last year the sea was open)—but even more than the total number killed during the four months on the American side of the North Pacific this season. This startling increase in the pelagic slaughter of both the American and Asiatic herds has convinced the president and it is respectfully submitted cannot fail to convince her majesty's government that these regulations enacted by the Paris tribunal have not operated to protect the seal herd from that destruction which they were designed to prevent; and that unless a speedy change in the regulations be brought about, extermination of the herd must follow."The president calls attention to the importance of preserving the fur seal, and suggests that the governments of Great Britain, Russia and Japan (all interested alike with the United States) that a commission be appointed comprising of one or more men from each country eminent for scientific knowledge and practical acquaintance with the fur trade. This commission to visit the islands which the seals frequent, and make a full report as to the measures needed to protect the sealherd from destruction. The president urges the appointment of such a commission and during its deliberation he suggests the following modus vivendi to be agreed to by Great Britain, the United States, Russia and Japan:"That the regulations now in force be extended along the line of the fifth degree of north latitude from the American to the Asiatic shores, and be enforced during the coming season in the whole Pacific ocean and waters north of that line. Furthermore the sealing in Bering sea be absolutely prohibited pending the report of such commission."Mr. Gresham suggests the necessity of speedy action in regard to this proposition.
